STEADFAST MEN

Lesson 00 · Introduction

Transcript · Wes Hart

Welcome to Steadfast Men. This is training for men. You'll hear some teaching and then you'll go practice it. It's for every man watching this.

Married, single, divorced, new dad, or your kids are taller than you now. If you've walked with Jesus for 30 years, you belong here. If you're not sure what you think about him yet, you belong here too. Before you start lesson one, here's how to use what's on this page and on the site.

Each lesson has a video. If you'd rather listen while you drive or walk, there's an audio only version of the same lesson. And there's a transcript if you want to read it or catch a line you missed. There's also a weekly workbook activity you can download for that session.

If you want the whole thing in one place, the complete workbook is for sale on the site. That's the paper you take with you into the week. The book that goes with all this is there, too. Same road as the sessions, written so you can sit with it on your own.

My friend Jonathan and I do a podcast called Walk Steadfast. Same topics as these weeks, just shorter and for the car. There's a YouTube channel off it as well if you'd rather watch. We're at steadfast walk on the socials if you want the week-to-week posts.

One more ask, and I'm not going to push it. If this work matters to you and you're in a place to help it reach more men, there's a place on the site to give.

A donation helps keep the training, the book, and the podcast going. Consider it. No guilt if now isn't the time. Here's the road you're about to walk.

24 sessions. We start with ordinary days because that's where a man actually gets made. Four marks sit in front of you. Stop waiting, pick up the weight, go first, and work for God's pay.

That pay is something God gives His kids. Nobody earns His way in with it. Then we look back at your dad, the home you came out of, the friends you don't really have, and what's broken inside every one of us. Then Genesis, what God had in mind when He made a man.

Then home, your wife wife, or the wife you don't have yet—sex, your daughters, your sons. What I hope you walk away with isn't a stack of notes. I want you to see, plain, what God built a man for. Look honestly at what you were handed.

Have a few men who actually know you, and do some real moves in your real life that somebody at home noticed. First Corinthians 15, verse 58, Therefore, my dear brothers and sisters, stand firm. Let nothing move you. Always give yourselves fully to the work of the Lord because you know that your labor in the Lord is not in vain.

Fully. That's the word I'd underline. And down the road, some of you are gonna take a few men through this yourselves. I'd like that a lot.

Okay, stand firm. Let's get to work.
